

DIVERSITY & INCLUSION

COMMITTED TO ALL

At Breckenridge Insurance Group, we appreciate the differences and perspectives of a diverse team. As part of our culture, we embrace inclusivity and opportunity for all who join us. Breckenridge was founded by a trailblazing female insurance executive and entrepreneur, CEO Tracey Carragher. She has clearly set forth a clear vision for the organization by creating a dynamic workplace that welcomes all. Tracey was recently named the Association of Professional Insurance Woman of the Year as well as one of Insurance Business America Elite Women in Insurance for her accomplishments as a champion of diversity and as an accomplished industry executive.

START FROM WITHIN

Within Breckenridge, our focused diversity and inclusion committee BreckINSpire, seeks insights from within the organization on how to fully live our vision and builds programming to respond to changing needs. This varies from formal training initiatives to sharing cultural insights and more. In conjunction with the committee, all management team members are accountable to efforts that further diversify the company in their roles and create an environment where unique individuals are encouraged to speak up, recognized for their ideas and contributions and valued for challenging conventional norms.

LEAD BY ACTION

Although the insurance industry continues to evolve, more can be done to accelerate the positive change needed to reflect the clients and insureds that we serve. From funding an industry study that unveiled the barriers to greater diversity in female leadership in the C-Suite, to facilitating enlightened discussions among peers at trade events, to authoring articles that outline the urgency for change, our team works to bring attention and action to benefit all.

BENEFITTING YOU

Truly diverse companies not only benefit the growth and success of its team members, but it is also well documented that the clients of that company benefit as well. It's no secret that the varied perspectives of those with dissimilar backgrounds can help transform ideas into sound decision making. Although more work is needed across all industries, we're fully invested in this as a strategic and moral imperative and we will continue to invest time, talent and resources to GO FURTHER... TOGETHER.
